THE SHRINER'S PLEDGE

When the Color Guard presents the Colors, the Potentate will cause the Nobility to come to attention and salute. After the salute is rendered, the following pledge will be recited in unison (the right hand extended in the direction of the Colors):

I pledge allegiance to my Flag, to the principles for which it stands, one Brotherhood, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

(Please commit this pledge to memory)

SALUTING THE COLORS

When a Noble is wearing the Fez, it is not necessary for him to remove it when the Colors pass. It is a part of his Shrine uniform. He should stand at attention, and when the Colors are within six paces at a point directly opposite his position, execute the right hand salute, holding it until after the Colors have passed, and then drop the right arm to its normal position. In the event the Colors pass the same point more than once, as frequently happens at Ceremonials, it is not necessary to salute a second time.

EXPLANATION OF THE PLEDGE

In the pledge we are accustomed to using the words "to the Flag of the United States of America." When the Imperial Council adopted the Pledge it was taken into consideration that the jurisdiction of the Shrine extended throughout North America, and that Canada and Mexico were affiliated with the organization. As a courteous gesture the words "my Flag" were used. My Flag meaning the Flag of the respective countries. Therefore in this pledge it means to us, "the Flag of the United States of America."

SALUTATION

NOBLES:

The caravan that will make the pilgrimage that will mark another year in the annals of Aleppo Temple is being formed.

The duties of leadership have become mine.

They were accepted, not so much as a matter of personal ambition, as willingness to undertake to perform the services the needs of the Temple require.

I am not at all concerned by the fact that precedents were broken, or especially elated that I have become Potentate. On the contrary, I am truly made humble by the consciousness that my election was due to the zeal and enthusiasm of many friends, and the confidence that their friends had in their judgment.

As I understand it, it was because of the service given in the past that it was believed I had certain qualifications that should come from the knowledge and experience of such training.

Whatever I do, therefore, must be according to my honest convictions that it is the right thing to do, that it is the fair thing to do, and for the good of the organization. It must take into consideration all of the members, and not a selected group.

I already know there are many problems, and that while a precarious situation does not exist, there are some serious phases that demand attention.

At the outset, I want to go on record as stating that I shall not seek a re-election. There are many men of proven ability that should be given a chance to advance, and in a Temple as large as ours, there is no lack of good material. The rule in most Temples is a one-year term of office.

While I shall always try to do my best, no one man can do much. Most any man, even with such limited capacity as mine, can do a great deal if he is given good support—provided he is sincere. The kind of support that makes for progress is (a) from the Nobles who pay their dues; (b) from the Nobles who secure new candidates, and that is what I ask of you.

So, at the beginning, we seek to arouse the Sons of the Desert and call upon them to join the caravan that we may unite in doing service for the Temple.

In the past our pilgrimages have been those of a happy fellowship in the land of milk and honey where plenty did abound. Today, it is confidently believed, we are emerging from the sandstorms of tribulations through which we have traveled in the last few years. It is time to raise our heads and lift our eyes to the sunlight that we may see that we are on the right road to Mecca. It is also time to reflect and appreciate that after all we have much to be thankful for, and we have, if we are in good health, have our homes, and our friends. We can get more courage and optimism by being real Shriners—a part of a happy caravan—than we can if we walk alone subdued by a doleful complex.

My first duty then, is to call a Ceremonial, that you may gather in felicity and put back in the Temple a revival of the enthusiasm that prevailed in the years that marked the best progress of Aleppo. I want to see the old spirit of good-fellowship revived, and I know that you want to see it prevail.

Come you then, to the Ceremonial, wearing your Fez at a jaunty angle, with a smile on your face, and a hearty hand-clasp for every Noble. There is no need for introductions—just say, "Hello, Noble!"

Greet and you will be greeted.

Smile and you will receive a smile.

Remember the Fez is not a High Hat—it is the symbol of equality.

Cordially yours in the Faith,

Your fellow Noble and Potentate.

FRED E. BOLTON.

POTENTATE'S PERSONALS

Tommy Bond.—As you come in the doors at the Garrison Street entrance you will see a good-looking Noble who is quietly supervising those who seek admission at the outer gate. He is so unostentatious that few of you can pick him out as the man who has served as Outer Guard since 1903. He has stayed on the outside, right on the job, so that in thirty years he has not witnessed a Ceremonial.

Not many of us recognize in Tommy Bond the famous pitcher of the old Boston Nationals, in the days when baseball was in its infancy—although most of the players wore a walrus mustache—"Ask Dad; he knows."

The point of all this is that the Potentate desires Tommy to see a Ceremonial, to come right down the line with the other officers, and be shown he is not the "forgotten man" of the Divan.

Tommy, the orders are that the Assistant Guards carry on outside, and that you see how we carry on inside.

Certainly, Nobles, we will have Tommy take a bow!

Old Timers.—Nobles who have been members for thirty or more years are invited to take the seats in front of the stage; first because they deserve a little extra attention, and next because the rest of us would like to see such a group of good Shriners and have an opportunity to meet them personally.

Candidates.—While the Band will play and the Patrol will drill it is the Degree Staff that devastates every candidate that clamors at the gate. This unit is full of "pep" and shouts defiantly BRING ON YOUR CANDIDATES!

The Signet Ring has been polished to assure a good impression. The fee for membership and all the initiatory works is now $50. NRA—which in Arabic means No Regrets Afterwards.

Uniformed Units.—Just take a good look at these fine Nobles—they will look natural to you, even though they have been recreated—with hardly a replacement man displaced. These Nobles represent the spirit of devotion and activity. They give much and enjoy giving it. And let me say, because I know, that since the annual meeting, through snow and ice, slush and storm, they have been on the job. Let's give them a big hand!

Tin Foil.—No doubt you have at some time given your mite of tin foil for the Crippled Children's Hospital. Have you ever seen what is done with it?

The next time you are at the Shrine offices just take a look at the showcase in the reception room and you will be surprised to see the number of useful and ornamental articles that have been made from tin foil—maybe a part of what you collected.

These novelties make a splendid gift, and by their sale the tin foil turns into money and the money is turned over to the Crippled Children's Hospital at Springfield—sometimes called, "the Temple of Smiles."

Unemployment.—There are many Nobles whose names are in the files that seek employment—capable men in so many lines of trade and profession that most any demand can be filled. If you have any way of assisting to place a man at work, or know of any openings, won't you please call up the Recorder—Kenmore 0678. Please lend a helping hand if you can possibly do so.

The Workers.—If you want to get an idea of how hard the Nobles of the Band work, and how faithful they are in their attendance, drop in at the Temple some Monday night. You will get an eyeful and an earful, too. Just forget your radio and hear the real thing.

If you would like to see the Patrol stepping around, you will find them every Friday night at the Cambridge Armory from 6 to 7.45 o'clock. You will be convinced that it is no pink tea party.

The Mounted Patrol will show you action at the Commonwealth Armory, astride real horses, also on Friday nights. These boys never do get a show at a Ceremonial for obvious reasons. They know their stuff, however.

At the Temple every Friday night the Degree Staff huddle to concoct new tortures. The mechanical division have their own workshop and build at no labor cost the paraphernalia they use in the stunts they produce for your edification.

RECORDER'S REMARKS

Howdy, Nobles? Greetings This Fine Spring Day!

We inaugurate the new year in Aleppo by taking the third place numerically in the Shrine World. The first three Temples in Shrinedom are, Medinah of Chicago, Syria of Pittsburgh and Aleppo of Boston, followed by 156 other Temples, and the only way that we can keep this position is by retaining our present membership and adding New MEMBERS.

We call your attention to the fact that the fee is now only $50 for initiation, and there is no charge for affiliating from another Temple to Aleppo.

We are going to depart from our usual custom by not dunning you for your unpaid dues, knowing that the Nobles who are not in possession of this year's card, know the reason why. However, the 1934 Shrine card is such a beautiful color tone that we urge all who haven't one to secure it before March 22nd, thus having at least one whole day to admire it before using it for the CEREMONIAL, MARCH 23RD. Fair enough, a GREEN BACK for a GREEN CARD.

Meanwhile, I'll be seeing you.

WALTER W. MORRISON,
Recorder.

I'll be looking too!

HARVEY B. LEGGEE,
Assistant Recorder.

FRANCIS HAWKES APPLETON

POTENTATE—1927—1928

DIED—FEBRUARY 9, 1934

The Black Camel has knelt at the portals of the home of our beloved Past Potentate Francis H. Appleton and taken him across the sands of Eternity.

Joining the Temple in 1902 he gave faithful service as an officer of the Divan for twenty consecutive years, prior to becoming Potentate in 1927.

Successful in business, he had retired, and was free to give all of his time to directing the affairs of the Temple. He proved his ability and displayed his good judgment by lifting the dignity and good standing of the organization to a higher plane.

The results of his service make a brilliant page as it is written in our archives.

A man of genial and kindly disposition he radiated good cheer, promoted good will and exemplified charity.

He was that sort of Shriner that understood the true purposes of the Shrine, and understanding, he both contributed and shared in the joys of a great fraternity.

His nature was so generous that he would not wish from us any high sounding words of eulogy or tears of sorrow. He would desire that we follow his example and strive to find and to cultivate the richest gift of Allah—the privilege to know and to love our friends.

THOMAS M. CARTER

A familiar figure will be missed at the Ceremonial, one that for the time that most of us can remember was outstanding in prominence as a noted composer, musician, and band leader.

Thomas M. Carter died January 4, 1934, at the age of 92 years.

Very few men have ever had a wider acquaintance in Masonic circles.

Noble Carter lived to become a very old man, but in his case old age ripened the charm of his personality, his affability, and his sunny disposition.

His stirring composition, "Boston Commandery March," has been played, and will continue to be played the world over. It has a special significance at this time, when we recall the refrain from the militant hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers" which he interpolated in his march—no doubt as the reflection of his own religious character—and we now accept as the assurance that dear old "Tom" has found eternal peace and happiness.

"I cannot say, and I will not say,
That he is dead!—he is just away;
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be since he is there.
Think of him still as the same, I say;
He is not dead—he is just away!"
